Napoleon the history of my life and exploits

*Farewell my brave soldiers, my eagles adieu;
 Flung with my ambition; o'er the world ye flew.
 But deeds of disaster so sad to rehearse,
 I have lived—fatal truth for to know the reverse.
 From Moscow, from Lipsic; the case it is clear
 I was sent back to France, with a flea in my ear.*

The Journey of a modern Hero, to the Island of ELBA.

*A lesson to mortals, regarding my fall;
 He grasps at a shadow; by grasping at all.
 My course it is finish'd my race it is run,
 My career it is ended just where it begun.
 The Empire of France no more it is mine,
 Because I can't keep it I freely resign.*

What can science centres do?

- Support schools to help young people to navigate the online world and validate information
- Focus on communicating general scientific process and thinking that can be applied across topics
- Rounded approach to promote science's place in human culture (part of, but not leading policy)
